Program Outline
The Bachelor of Management is a program for students intending to pursue careers in general management or Human Resource Management in large businesses or government organisations. The focus of much of the curriculum is on human and organisational relationships and structure. A feature of the program is the group of practical business placements and projects courses that are available. This flexible degree structure allows up to one-third of the program to be selected from other degree programs, including marketing, business and human resource management as electives.

Career Opportunities
Management is the task of coordinating resources and people to achieve the goals and objectives of an organisation. Whatever program you are studying you will eventually be employed in an organisation, and may be promoted to supervisor and management positions in your field. An understanding of how organisations and people function is important in any career. The knowledge and skills gained through studying management will qualify you to work in any organisation in positions that could eventually lead to management roles. Combining your management courses with Human Resource Management, or Marketing will enhance career opportunities. The Bachelor of Management is recognised by the Australian Institute of Management.

Program Requirements
Student workload in this program will normally be evenly spread across all semesters. Ordinarily, this will involve four courses of 15 credit points per semester for full-time students. Contact hours for full-time students will normally be a maximum of 15 hours per week. The program is made up of a total of 24 courses which include Foundation courses (9), Specialisation courses (8) and Electives courses (7).

Foundation courses should be completed early in the program of study (i.e. by the end of the third semester). Specialisation and elective courses can be undertaken throughout the program. To fulfil the academic requirements for the Bachelor of Management a student will complete an approved program of study comprising a minimum of 360 credit points of which at least 17 courses must be Foundation and Specialisation courses.
